

Tracking Invertebrates

A natural history walk in Brattleboro's Retreat woods

Sunday, Sept. 26, 10 AM-1 PM

Insects, spiders, snails, worms, and other spineless animals leave behind all sorts of distinctive patterns and mystery objects that pique our curiosity: egg cases, cocoons, galls, leaf mines, burrows, nests, and more. Authors Charley Eiseman and Noah Charney have compiled the answers to hundreds of these riddles in a groundbreaking new reference, Tracks & Sign of Insects and Other Invertebrates (Stackpole Books, 592 pages). Join them for a walk that is sure to change the way you explore the outdoors!
